ROSEMARY HEENAN

Rosemary Heenan has a big heart!

Rosemary is a keen observer of people's behaviour. She's always understood that whatever happens to us in childhood shapes the rest of our life.

For 31 years, Rosemary was a professor of Early Childhood Education at St. Clair College, in Windsor, Ontario where she helped thousands of students believe in their self-worth and achieve their educational and career goals. With the life purpose of Healer with Heart it is no surprise that she made a career teaching others how to make the best possible beginnings for young children.

After learning how to reconnect with her own passion and live from her heart, Rosemary now calls herself The Heart Activist. She combined her skills in coaching and energy work to create the transformational Heart Power Coaching program.

Heart Power Coaching facilitates clients to reactivate the passion that is currently locked in their hearts, resulting in the experience of exuberance and joy.

Learn more about her style by listening to her radio interview on the Law of Attraction Talk Radio station:

Rosemary will be presenting a teleclass on her e-book 8 Keys: Unlock the Door to Prosperity in October.

More information is available at <http://www.rosemaryheenan.com> or through email at rosemary@rosemaryheenan.com or phone 519-978-3995.

Rosemary also offers a service of hand analysis to help people uncover their life purpose. All WEF members receive 20% off on any of Rosemary's classes and services.

MELISSA McCORMICK

Melissa McCormick has been a member of WEF for 18 years and served as our president in 1997-1998. For twenty years she owned and operated her own retail business called Polkosnik's Silk Plant Warehouse which she closed at the end of 2005. This allowed Melissa to work full time promoting her Canadian best selling book, "The Queen's Daughter".

She just completed a three year term as the president of the Sexual Assault Crisis Centre which she supports as her designated charity. Melissa is a professional public speaker who travels wherever needed to promote women's causes and she regularly visits local schools to educate young people.

Melissa often speaks of the importance of networking and building client relationships and is a strong advocate for Women's Economic Forum. She is excited to introduce her newest project, a book entitled: Windsor and Essex County Who's Who, Local Leaders and People of Influence. The book will focus on the positive and inspirational successes of our community.
